

The following songs about Morrison Field and the Air Transport Command are from a 1944 Year book from Morrison Field. It was common practice that servicemen would eventually write a song or poem about where they are stationed or about their unit. "Let's Go-Morrison Field," was written by Corporal Ray Muffs and Sergeant Ken Cayton.

Lets Go-Morrison Field!

Hear the beat of the marching feet,
Listen to the airplanes roar,
We're off to fight for Victory,
So Freedom will ring evermore;

We're the Yanks from the ranks marching a million strong,
We're the Yanks from the ranks marching along,
All our standards are high from the ground to the sky,
We're the sons, the fighting sons of the Air
Corps;
From sunset 'til dawn we're on the beam again,
All parading the blue guarding the shore,
Ev'ry enemy plane in sight will never live to tell the fight,
(hey!) LET'S GO-MORRISON FIELD!

Lets Go-Air Transport Command!

Hear the airplanes in the sky,
Listen to the motors roar,
We're flying high for Victory,
So Freedom will ring evermore;

We're the Transport Command flying a million strong,
We're the Transport Command flying along,
We deliver supplies with our planes thru the skies,
We're the sons, the flying sons of the ATC;
(Transports)
Be it daytime or night we're on the beam again,
Shipping freight stowed in crates for "Over
There,"
Ev'ry convoy in the sky is a mission "do or die,"
(hey!) LET'S GO_AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND!
